

Marine Fire Certification Summary

IMO 2010 FTP Code and EU Marine Equipment Directive (Wheelmark)

The Floor Gallery supplies marine-certified flooring for superyacht, cruise, ferry and commercial vessel interiors. The certifications below are current and the supporting certificates are available on request for your project.

Organic Flooring (PVC-free bio-based resilient, marine specification)

Approval	EU Marine Equipment Directive (MED) 2014/90/EU, the Wheelmark
Scope	MED/3.18c, surface materials and floor coverings with low flame-spread characteristics
Fire standard	IMO 2010 FTP Code (Res. MSC.307(88)), Annex 1, Parts 2 and 5 (smoke and toxicity, surface flammability)
Conventions	SOLAS 74 as amended, Reg. II-2/3, II-2/5, II-2/6, X/3; HSC Codes
Notified body	TUV NORD Systems (NB 0045)
Type examination (Module B)	Certificate M26008-B-V01, valid to 03 February 2030
Production quality (Module D)	Certificate M26009-D-V01, valid to 23 March 2028
US recognition	USCG approval category 164.117/EC0045 (EC and US mutual recognition)
Installation	Bonded with the test-approved marine adhesive (Uzin KE2000S); any alternative must be separately MED-approved

Winderen Engineered Oak (timber, marine specification)

Finish	Marine-certified flame-retardant lacquer, certified to the IMO fire requirements under the EU Marine Equipment Directive (2014/90/EU), applied as a two-coat marine build (2 x 100 g/m ² max)
Conventions	SOLAS 74 Reg. II-2/3, II-2/5, II-2/6, X/3; HSC Codes; IMO MSC/Circ. 1120
Slip resistance	R10 available (with anti-slip additive), tested to EN 16165
Core option	Marine-grade plywood core available for specific projects
Certification	Final fire acceptance depends on the full specified build-up; the complete system specification and current certification are confirmed per vessel

Certificate numbers are shown so they can be verified directly with the notified body. This summary is provided for specification guidance; the current certificates govern. Certification is subject to the stated products, specification and validity dates.